THE DEPARTMENT of AEROSPACE ENGINEERING
Proudly Presents the

Lockheed Martin Sikorsky Colloquium Series

Presented by
AUDREY BRADY
GENERAL MANAGER
SIKORSKY'S
COATESVILLE, PA FACILITY

Audrey Brady is the General Manager of Sikorsky's Coatesville, Pa. Operations, a division of Lockheed Martin's Rotary and Mission Systems business. In this role, Audrey is responsible for final assembly and flight operations for the S-92® and the S-76®, as well as final completions and delivery for all Sikorsky commercial aircraft. She leads in all aspects of the site's operations including, business development, financial strategies, processes, and operations. In addition to the commercial operations at the site, Audrey helped secure additional work in support of the Canadian Maritime Helicopter and s70i Black Hawk Programs.

Most recently, she served as Director of S-92 Programs, leading the development and execution of the commercial product line. In her nine years with Sikorsky, Audrey has held multiple roles of increasing responsibility, including: Operations Manager in Rotor Systems, Senior Operations Manager, and then Director in the Connecticut Assembly and Flight Operations for the production of Black Hawk and Naval Hawk aircraft.

Audrey began her career with Pratt & Whitney in 1996 as a Design Engineer and progressed quickly within the engineering organization. In 2002, she transferred to Operations, where she held the positions of Business Center Manager, Manufacturing Engineering Manager, and Commodity Manager within the Supply Chain Group.

Audrey holds Bachelor of Science degrees in Mathematics and Mechanical Engineering from Trinity College, a Master of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from Stanford University, and an MBA from Carnegie Mellon. She serves on the board of the Chester County Economic Development Council in Chester County, Pennsylvania and is very active with numerous volunteer organizations in the region. A lifelong learner and athlete, Audrey has her private helicopter pilot's license and in her spare time she enjoys flying, golfing, and running.
